Dear Friends,

On behalf of Clinton County Citizens for Elderly Services, Inc., it is my pleasure to present our 2012 Annual Report.

Our most exciting news in 2012 was the resounding victory of the levy which supports our program. It passed with nearly 76 percent of the vote. Keeping the levy to a renewal was a major factor, of course. The downside is that the program is at its capacity, given the funding available. The waiting list we started in September 2009 has continued. We've been able to keep it to about 30 to 40 people, but the wait is three to four months. We have only two to three openings each month when people leave the program.

In spite of this, our program did grow slightly in 2012. We served 519 seniors, compared with 494 in 2011. Our services are basic – home-delivered meals, housekeeping help, transportation, and the like – but they are effective at keeping people independent in their homes. As you'll see in the report, only 27 percent of our clients left the program in 2012 to enter a long-term care facility. More than a third remained on the program – and in their homes – until their death.

We work hard to keep our costs down. In 2012, the average cost for our services was $305.66 a month, per client. These services can delay or prevent nursing home placement, where the taxpayers' cost for Medicaid is close to $5,000 a month.

As our population ages, it is becoming increasingly important to be able to provide long-term care services that taxpayers can sustain. According to the U.S. Census, from 2000 to 2010, Clinton County's population of adults age 65 and older increased by 15 percent. One in four Clinton County households now includes at least one person age 65 or older. Of particular importance for calculating the costs of care, the census reports that 44 percent of our county's older adults have a disability.

The Elderly Services Program is one more way for the people of Clinton County to take care of each other. We've seen that over and over again as we continue to recover from a bad economy and the departure of our major employer. We know you expect nothing less from us than high-quality care, and careful stewardship of your tax dollars. We will continue to deliver on that promise.

The Elderly Services Program

The Clinton County Elderly Services program helps older adults remain independent within the familiar surroundings of their own homes for as long as possible.

Nursing homes are often necessary, but most people do not want to go there before their time. With the help of services such as home-delivered meals and personal care, many older adults can delay or prevent nursing home placement.

Of all the options for long-term care, in-home care is also the least expensive. It costs about $306 a month per client in Clinton County ESP, compared to almost $5,000 a month for nursing home care.

Clinton County's Elderly Services Program is supported by 1) a local tax levy, 2) funds distributed by Council on Aging of Southwestern Ohio (COA) from Title III of the Older Americans Act, and 3) co-payments from participants who are able to contribute to the cost of their care. Donations are also accepted for home-delivered meals.

It costs about $306 a month per client in Clinton County's Elderly Services Program, compared with almost $5,000 a month for nursing home care.

COA administers the program under contract with Clinton County Commissioners. COA processes all billing, and provides program planning, reporting, auditing, contracting and provider services, technical assistance and community engagement activities. Agencies contract with COA to provide in-home services such as housekeeping help, personal care (bathing and grooming) and transportation.

COA works with Clinton County Citizens for Elderly Services, a volunteer community advisory council.

Clinton County Community Action Agency, Inc. contracts with COA to assess and enroll clients, as well as provide care management.

Profile of the typical ESP client

Because of health problems and disability, our clients aren't out and about as they once were. But in their younger days, they were teachers, office workers, homemakers, nurses, and civic volunteers – in short, the backbone of our community. Today, the Elderly Services Program helps them preserve their independence and dignity.

Our typical client is a woman in her 80s. She lives alone on a modest income of about $18,180 a year, from which she pays $4,335 in out-of-pocket medical costs.

Her income is too high for Medicaid, the government insurance program for the poor, but too low to allow her to hire in-home help. Her family helps, but cannot provide all the care she needs.

Because of health problems, she can no longer do certain basic activities without help, like shop for groceries or clean her house. She is prone to falling and moves about with difficulty.

From ESP, she receives an emergency response device, a daily home-delivered meal, and several hours a week of housekeeping help. ESP also added grab bars in her bathroom. With the help of her family and these basic services, she avoids premature placement in a nursing home.

Clinton County ESP Client Profile | Loretta

Loretta pulled herself slowly out of her wheelchair, leaned her body against the kitchen sink and washed dishes.

"It's very important for me to do for myself as much as I can," she said. "There will come some day when I can't do as much."

Calling herself "just an old southern gal," Loretta has had a lifetime of making the best of bad circumstances. She grew up poor on a farm without electricity in Hazard, Ky. As a young woman, she suffered a beating at the hands of her husband that landed her in the hospital for three months and caused her to lose a lung.

"When I got back on my feet, I was gone," she said. She and her two children came to the Cincinnati area where she found work as a model. Then, at the age of 34, she had a stroke that left her able to walk only with the help of a cane. That stroke was followed by another one, more severe. Loretta could no longer walk and her speech was affected. Her children at the time were 12 and 10.

"I do have strength and willpower," she said. "I guess I'm just a determined kind of person."

Loretta eventually moved to Xenia and then to Wilmington. At 73, she has multiple health problems, in addition to her disability. She has support and help from a sister, her children, and a niece and nephew who often visit.

In 2004, she enrolled in the Clinton County Elderly Services program and receives a variety of services including medical transportation, home-delivered meals, homemaking help twice a week, emergency response device, and medical equipment, such as a lift chair.

"I'd be in a nursing home without (the program)," she said. "They help me a lot. I couldn't do without them. Everyone who has helped me is very nice and nice people are hard to find."

Loretta now lives in an apartment complex for seniors, which she loves.

"I'm lucky to live here," she said. "I'm here to stay. And when I go, I'll be carried out the door."

Clinton County ESP Client Profile | Mike

Mike put off getting help for a long time. Beginning in 2008 when he moved into an apartment complex for seniors, the service coordinator there tried to persuade him to get more help. Four years later, he finally approached the Clinton County Elderly Services Program.

"I was bullheaded," Mike said. "I knew I needed help, but I just didn't want to give in. Then when I finally did decide, I was on the waiting list for three months. I had just about given up when (ESP care manager) Brenda called and then it was bam, bam, bam – everything was lined up real quick."

Sizing up Mike's situation, Brenda tackled his needs for mobility and safety. The chair where he spent much of his time was falling apart because he pushed on the arms to raise himself. She arranged for him to receive a lift chair, roller walker, and emergency response device. He also receives home-delivered meals, housekeeping help two hours a week, and medical transportation as needed.

Mike's health problems began in childhood. At the age of eight, he was diagnosed with a debilitating disease known as neurofibromatosis. Doctors told his parents he wouldn't reach the age of 21.

"But nobody told me I wasn't expected to pull through," Mike said. "So I did."

He went on to work as an aide and then as a supervisor in several central Ohio care centers and group homes for people with disabilities. In 2007, as his own disability began to take more of a toll, Mike's brother and sister-in-law urged him to move to Wilmington to be closer to them.

Now 67, Mike has numerous benign tumors on his spine that cause chronic pain, weakness, numbness and tingling.

"It could always be worse," Mike said. "I try to keep smiling and go on."

That attitude has befriended him to many in the apartment complex where he enjoys playing cards, watching his pet cockatiel named Twerp, adding to his collection of little china dogs, and baking his famous "dump cake" to share with his friends.

"Boy is it good," he said. "Whenever I bake one, for some reason, it just evaporates."

The Elderly Services Program has made a big difference in his life, Mike said.

"If I didn't get this assistance, I'd probably end up in a nursing home," he said. "Maybe I wouldn't mind it that much, but I don't think I could share my room with someone else. I'm very well pleased with the program. It seems like everybody is so friendly and willing to help."

Role of Council on Aging in the Clinton County Elderly Services Program

As administrator of the Elderly Services Program in Clinton County (as well as Butler, Hamilton and Warren counties), Council on Aging (COA) ensures that frail seniors receive the highest quality services at the lowest cost in order to serve as many seniors as possible with the tax dollars available.

COA's responsibilities include: program design and development, contracting and provider services, data analysis and reporting, financial services and oversight, information technology, quality improvement, and community engagement.

Through these services, COA is able to:

- Design and change programs to fit community needs and manage costs
- Keep costs down and quality up via competition and contract management
- Provide a central point of access to information and resources
- Help service providers improve quality and efficiency
- Report program performance and trends to the public
- Ensure stewardship of taxpayer dollars
- Raise and sustain public awareness and confidence

Other services available through Council on Aging for Clinton County seniors

As the state-designated Area Agency on Aging, Council on Aging provides additional services besides the Elderly Services Program to Clinton County seniors and their families. These include:

Aging and Disability Resources Center (800-252-0155 or www.help4seniors.org) – COA's call center and "front door" to services and community resources. We responded to nearly 30,000 requests for help for seniors in FY 2012.

Assisted Living Waiver – Intermediate level of care for low-income older adults. We served six Clinton County residents in FY 2012.

PASSPORT – In-home care for low-income adults age 60 and older. On average, PASSPORT is about one-fifth the cost of a nursing home. We served 134 Clinton County seniors in FY 2012.

Older Americans Act – Title III – COA administers this federal funding for senior centers and organizations who provide services such as transportation, congregate meals, caregiver support, legal help and wellness education.

HOME Grant – COA administers funds from the Ohio Department of Development that provide home repairs and accessibility upgrades to eligible seniors. We helped 32 Clinton County seniors in FY 2012.

A daily congregate meal, funded by Title III, is available at the Wilmington Savings Bank Clinton County Senior Center.

Living Arrangements

ESP is intended to supplement the care that is provided by family and friends. Many clients, however, do not have anyone who helps them regularly other than through the program.

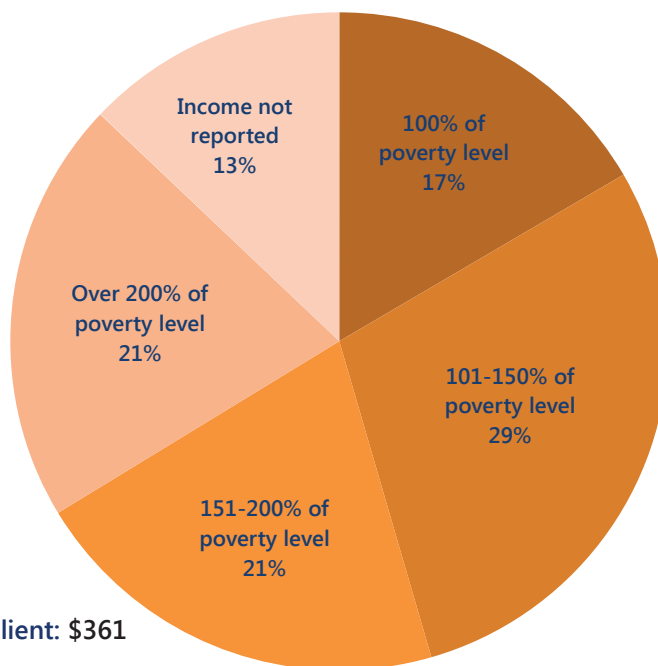

Live Alone	334
Live with Spouse	108
Other*	77

*Other may include living arrangements not specified, or arrangements such as living with other family member, a dependent child, friend or caregiver.

Income and Expenses

Most ESP clients have modest incomes. The 2012 Federal Poverty Guidelines for one person was an annual income of $11,170 or less. Based on a formula that takes income and health care expenses into account, some clients make a monthly co-payment for ESP services.

Average monthly income of clients: $1,515

Average monthly out-of-pocket medical costs per client: $361

Clients with annual incomes at or below $22,340: 67%

Clients with annual incomes above $22,340: 21%

Clients with a co-payment*: 27%

*Co-payment excludes 67 clients who receive only home-delivered meals (HDM only). No co-payment is required for this service, though some clients make a voluntary donation.

Calculation includes HDM only clients who are not required to report income.

How Your Tax Dollars Are Spent

Without the support of Clinton County taxpayers, the Elderly Services Program would not exist. Local tax dollars cover 89 percent of the total cost of the program. The remaining funding comes from federal, state and grant sources, client donations (requested, but not required, for home-delivered meals), and client co-payments (27 percent of clients qualify for a co-payment, based on their income and medical expenses).

The table on page 11 shows the number of clients who received each type of service, the number of service units they received (hours, trips, etc.) and the total cost for those units. The chart below shows that our three greatest expenses are for homemaking, home-delivered meals, and care management. ESP is not a one-size-fits-all program. It is flexible in order to provide the right services, in the right amounts, at the right times.

Provider agencies (see list, page 14) deliver these services under contract with Council on Aging. COA handles contracting, program policy development, financial administration, information technology, quality improvement, communications, data collection and analysis. As southwestern Ohio's Area Agency on Aging, COA is charged with identifying, planning, facilitating and monitoring services to improve quality of life for older adults, including those living in Clinton County.

The State of Aging in Clinton County

In just a few years – by 2015 – for the first time in US history, people age 65 and older will outnumber children under age five. This is just one of the many ways the aging of our population will affect society and it's already happening in Clinton County. From 2000 to 2010, Clinton County's 65+ population increased by more than 15 percent, and one in four Clinton County households now includes at least one person who is 65 or older. (Scripps Gerontology Center at Miami University and U.S. Census)

According to the 2010 U.S. Census, 14 percent of Clinton County's population is age 65 and older. The "oldest old" – those age 85 and older – are the fastest growing portion of the 65+ population. Scripps projects this age group will grow by more than 55 percent from 2010 to 2030.

With age comes an increasing risk of disability (and need for care). Among Clinton County residents age 65 and older, 44 percent have a disability. (U.S. Census)

While age and disability are increasing, the number of potential caregivers has been decreasing. Family and friends will continue to provide long-term care, but families today are smaller, more spread out, and often unable to provide the level of care needed by their aging loved ones.

When help is needed, in-home care is the most compassionate and cost-effective choice. For seniors who can't afford to pay for private care, yet don't qualify for Medicaid, the Clinton County Elderly Services Program is a lifeline. This is a large group. Among Clinton County seniors who received publicly-funded in-home care services in 2012, 134 were served by PASSPORT (Ohio's Medicaid in-home care program), while nearly four times as many received care through Clinton County ESP.

Clinton County is fortunate to have a program that goes a long way toward meeting the community need to help people of modest means with compassionate, cost-effective home-based care.

Reasons why clients leave the program

We are proud of the fact that only a tiny fraction of ESP clients leave because they are dissatisfied with the program. Forty percent of our clients remain on the program until they die. More than one third of ESP clients leave the program because of changes in their health or how/where they receive care. Some of these clients improve to a point where they no longer require services or can receive care from a family member or friend, while others need more intensive services and move to a program such as PASSPORT, hospice or into a nursing home.

Green: Desired outcomes. (Note: Deceased is a good outcome because it means the client stayed in his or her home until death.)

Orange: Less desirable, neutral or unspecified outcomes.

Red: Undesirable outcomes.

Refused to provide financial information or pay co-payment
