A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR, HAMILTON COUNTY ELDERLY SERVICES PROGRAM ADVISORY COUNCIL

On behalf of Hamilton County Citizens for Elderly Services, Inc., it is my pleasure to present the Annual Report for 2005.

As you will see, we served nearly 8,000 people. They are people who clearly need and benefit from our program.

Our typical consumer is a woman in her 80s who lives alone on a very modest income. Because of age and health problems, she cannot get to the store on her own or clean her house. She may need grab bars installed in her bathtub and an emergency monitoring device to help keep her safe. But she's not ready to go to a nursing home and, with a little help, she doesn't have to.

Home delivered meals, housekeeping help, home safety upgrades and other services can allow her to stay in the familiar surroundings of home. Without the Elderly Services ProgramSM, however, she could be forced into institutional care simply to access Medicaid to pay for her care. The monthly cost to the taxpayers would then increase ten-fold.

As I write this in May 2006, I'm thinking of several challenges ahead, one of which is the need to assure that people who need the Elderly Services Program are aware of it before it's too late to help them. We often hear of family members who have struggled to provide care on their own and then regretfully placed an elderly parent or grandparent in a nursing home because they were not aware of other options.

Another challenge is to sucessfully expand our Service Coordination Program, an effective way to deliver services to low-income seniors in housing complexes.

Finally, we must prepare ourselves for a renewal of our county tax levy which expires at the end of 2007. We are grateful to the citizens who have supported our mission and shown that they want our elderly citizens to remain in their own homes and communities for as long as possible.

We pledge to continue to provide high-quality care, to be good stewards of the public's money, to strive for improvement, and to advocate for the older adults of Hamilton County.

THE POSITIVE IMPACT OF CONSUMER DIRECTED CARE IN THE ELDERLY SERVICES PROGRAMSM

During 2005, there were one hundred and thirty four (134) consumers with seven (7) care managers involved in Consumer Directed Care (CDC) in the Elderly Services Program in Hamilton County.

CDC is based on the philosophy that individuals receiving services have the most knowledge about the "who, what, when, and how" of their service delivery.

The purpose of consumer directed care is to give consumers more choice and control over services. Individuals involved in the CDC program through Council on AgingSM are allowed to hire, train, and manage their own services.

To be enrolled in the program, consumers must complete training, have a care plan in place, and paid workers available. Consumers who are unable to complete the duties involved due to frailty or mental impairments are required to appoint an authorized representative before starting services.

In the traditional ESPSM program, most consumers could interact with a variety of agency workers and a Care Manager. In CDC, typically one worker provides the vast majority of paid care from personal care and homemaking to independent living and companion services. Consumers prefer to have ongoing relationships with workers whom they know and trust. Importantly, worker turnover is rare. Nearly 80% of consumers have retained the same worker while enrolled in the program.

A follow-up with consumers showed nearly one hundred percent (100%) are satisfied with the ability to choose who they want to take care of them, choose the types of services and number of hours needed and the opportunity to receive services when they wanted. Also, for a majority of caregivers consumer direction gave them some respite or more free time to focus on other things besides caregiving.

Those involved in the CDC program are overwhelmingly satisfied with the various aspects of consumer directed care. CDC ESP consumers and caregivers would recommend the program to others.

HAMILTON COUNTY ELDERLY SERVICES PROGRAM

The Hamilton County Elderly Services Program helps older adults remain independent within the familiar surroundings of their own homes for as long as possible.

Nursing homes are often necessary, but most people do not want to go there before their time. With the help of services such as home delivered meals and housekeeping, many older adults can delay or prevent nursing home placement.

Of all the options for long-term care, services in the home are also the least expensive. It costs about $302 a month per consumer in Hamilton County's Elderly Services Program, compared with $4,800 a month for nursing home care.

Hamilton County's Elderly Services Program is supported by a local tax levy, funds from Title III of the Older Americans Act, and co-payments from consumers who are able to contribute to the cost of their care. Donations are also accepted for the home delivered meals program.

Cost is $302 a month per consumer in Hamilton County's Elderly Services Program.

Cost is $4,800 a month for nursing home care.

The program is managed by Council on Aging of Southwestern Ohio (COASM) in partnership with the Hamilton County commissioners.

Other agencies provide a variety of services, such as home repair and electronic monitoring devices, that help the older residents of Hamilton County remain as independent as possible for as long as possible.

A HAMILTON COUNTY ELDERLY SERVICES PROGRAM SUCCESS STORY

Caregiving comes naturally to Norma Smith

When the role of caregiver sometimes wore thin, Norma Smith found comfort in her wedding vows: for better or for worse. She knew no one could take care of her bedridden husband, Franklin, like she could. Who else would chop Big Boy sandwiches into tiny pieces and spend an hour feeding him? Who would bake his favorite jalapeno cornbread and laugh with him when the hot peppers made the tears stream down his face?

Norma Smith, of Lockland, was honored last May as one of nine Ohio Caregivers of the Year. She was recognized by Gov. Bob Taft; Merle Grace Kearns, Director of the Ohio Department of Aging; and members of the Ohio legislature in a ceremony at the Statehouse Atrium in Columbus. The award was part of observances for Older Americans Month.

Norma, 69, took care of her husband from his first stroke in 1991 until his death in August 2005. She also handles shopping and medications for her brother and provides care on weekends for her disabled sister.

"I wanted to take care of my husband and keep him at home," Norma said. "Sometimes I did have to ask the good Lord for strength. But I've got the best family in the world. We all help each other."

Norma also received help for Franklin from the Elderly Services ProgramSM. She now receives help herself as she regains her strength after a stay in the hospital for blood clots in her lungs.

Norma Smith and her pet cockatoo 'Peanut'

"They come and clean my house once a week. That's a real big help," Norma said.

Home is important to Norma. It gives her joy and allows her to care for others. She has her pet cockatoos and plants a big vegetable garden every year. Her pickles and jams win ribbons at the Hamilton County Fair.

"The kitchen and garden – that's my life!" Norma said. "I used to put Frank in the car and he'd sit and watch me in the garden. He'd always have a big smile on his face."
