Becca Jones Bio:

Becca Jones is an Ohio Certified Prevention Consultant and Internationally Certified Prevention Specialist. She began her prevention career in a rural Ohio junior high school when she became involved with Teen Institute activities. After college, she worked with the local Family and Children First Council to implement programming in Logan/Champaign counties. Jones also provided Prevention services in Miami County before moving to Hamilton County where she's served rural, suburban, and inner cities through prevention work crossing all cultures. While her primary focus was school-based prevention work, Jones has since transitioned to her current role where she oversees prevention programs serving young children, youth, and adults in a wide array of settings
