Opening Keynote: Getting Better Together

And PM Workshop 1: Communication with Impact: Mastering Message Framing

Speaker: Therese Gopaul-Robinson, MPH

Therese Gopaul-Robinson Bio:

With over 20 years of experience in healthcare, Therese Gopaul-Robinson has identified a significant challenge encountered by leaders: a widespread lack of self-confidence. This often results in hesitation during decision-making, avoidance of tough conversations, and a reluctance to share ideas.

To address this issue, she initiated Security Stacking, a program designed to empower leaders to overcome insecurity and make confident choices, ultimately improving organizational performance and engagement. Robinson's mission is to assist organizations in cultivating confident, impactful leaders who drive better performance, stronger engagement, and enduring success.

Robinson holds a Master of Public Health and has successfully managed teams in hospitals and healthcare staffing, gaining recognition for her leadership at a prominent U.S. staffing organization and has a proven track record of enhancing productivity in teams often regarded as "cost centers."
